

Training for Financial Services

Build your professional career in the world of finance

MEGT Institute is the training arm of MEGT (Australia) Ltd, with over 25 years commitment to developing and supporting Australian businesses.

As a leading provider of training for the finance sector, MEGT Institute provides a range of training solutions which are customised to meet specific business requirements. Nationally accredited qualifications enable staff to gain skills and knowledge relevant to enterprise and industry standards.

Traineeship training is one of the services provided by MEGT Institute. We also provide Recognition of Prior Learning (RPL) or Recognition of Current Competencies (RCC) services for staff who have already gained skills and knowledge through previous education and work.

Financial Services qualifications offered by MEGT Institute

MEGT Institute can provide training and assessment for the finance sector from Certificate II level qualifications, designed to facilitate an understanding of the Australian financial services marketplace, through to Certificate IV level qualifications, which reflect the role of individual employees including Tier 2 ASIC compliance.

- Certificate II in Financial Services (FNS20110)
- Certificate III in Financial Services (FNS30110)
- Certificate IV in Bookkeeping (FNS40210)

Call us now on 1300 MEGT MEGT www.megtinstitute.com.au

Training for Financial Services

Training delivery

Busy professionals need flexible training options. Training can be tailored to meet your individual requirements regardless of whether your business is small, medium or a large national corporation. MEGT Institute will assist you to establish a training plan to suit your workload and learning needs.

A variety of training methods and learning support resources are available; such as workplace coaching, projects, workbooks, team sessions, portfolios, buddying or mentoring. The range of approaches makes the learning experience both rewarding and enjoyable.

Increased competition for markets will continue to see the emergence of new occupations in the finance industry. The Certificate IV in Financial Services offers a wide range of elective choices including: customer relationships, accounting, mortgage broking and superannuation.

MEGT Institute trainers

Our Finance trainers have extensive cross-sector industry experience, hold formal industry qualifications and up-to-date vocational training qualifications.

Commitment and choices

Training and recognition of skills already achieved can be a strong motivator for your employees. This will help their performance and extend their skills base, allowing your business to be more competitive and flexible. We can assist you to determine your training needs and how these align with your business objectives.

MEGT (Australia) Ltd supports an inclusive workplace where gender, age, culture, disability and lifestyle choice are valued. Our access and equity policy fosters and promotes an inclusive learning environment for all.

For more information

MEGT Institute staff are located across Australia and are happy to discuss your training needs and familiarise you with the many other training services and qualifications we provide.

For more information you can contact either our national Head Office in Ringwood, Victoria, or you may prefer to contact your local State MEGT Institute representative.

Call 1300 MEGT MEGT or visit www.megtinstitute.com.au

MEGT – big enough to support you small enough to know you